Home Care Agencies Updated: March 2024

Home care agencies provide non-medical services to ill, disabled, or vulnerable individuals, enabling them to maintain their highest level of independence and remain in their homes.

The WA State Department of Health licenses home care agencies to assure care is provided within health and safety standards established by statute and rule. The department enforces the standards by periodically conducting on-site surveys of these agencies. Some of the requirements include:

- Washington State Patrol criminal background checks in compliance with RCW 43.43.830-842.
- Current business license(s).
- Evidence of professional liability, public liability, and property damage insurance. For more information on licensing requirements, visit: <http://www.doh.wa.gov>

Hiring Through an Agency: This method will save time compared to hiring a private individual but expect to pay several dollars more per hour for services that are structured in graduating levels. Agencies may also have requirements for a minimum number of hours. Some may offer a flat rate for a particular service like bath assistance and a minimum hourly requirement for a home health aide. See our How to Hire Guide for more information and guidance about hiring home care workers.
